CASH FOR WARRANTS

Local and Not Foreign Capital Said to Be Interested.

It is local, and not foreign capital that stands ready to take up the Territorial warrants and save the salaried men from the evil of the one per cent discount. And, if present plans do not miscarry, the matter will be arranged in the near future. The negotiations, in fact, are now in progress, and official advice are that they are in a fair way to reach a successful termination.

There has been a good deal of talk about the county teaching finances to the Territory, but as a matter of fact, if matters work out as smoothly within the next few weeks as they are now confidently expected to, the very warrants that are paid to the counties themselves will be taken up at a low rate of interest before they are turned over and the counties, including the county of Oahu, will get their pro rata in cash, and will not have to discount their warrants at all.

But these are things that require time. The Territory, as everybody knows, cannot borrow money save with the consent of the President, but there is nothing to prevent an arrangement with capital by which all warrants will be taken for the five per cent. interest which those papers bear, cutting out the discount now paid altogether, if capital can be found to do the trick.

And, just now, there is plenty of Hawaiian capital, the sugar profits of the last season, lying idle which would be glad of a turn before the time comes to move the next sugar crop. There would be lots of profit in a turn like that at five per cent.

"The money can be found," said Acting Governor Atkinson yesterday. "It is a matter of detail, merely, to apply it. But it would not be at all surprising if the county pro rata itself would be paid in cash—and then there would be no need for Treasurer Trent to discount his one warrant."

"The man with the $500,000 to take up Territorial warrants is not a bogie man," said Treasurer Campbell. "How much would he want for the accommodation? Oh, five per cent."

WHY TRENT LOST FIGHT

The small fry politicians of the Republican County Committee have been trying to do a little politics, which state of facts goes far toward explaining the disagreement which has arisen between County Treasurer Trent and the Republicans in the Board of Supervisors as to the manner of payment of county employees. To the average business man, it would seem that the most direct way of payment would be the best, but that is not the small fry politician's way. Not at all. The matter was up for discussion in the County Committee the other day, and it was there that the resolution was taken to sit upon Treasurer Trent.

"Because," said one of the small fry, "Trent is a Democrat, and if he is allowed to handle the money, and pay off the laborers, the natives will get the idea into their heads that he is the money master, and they will do everything in politics that he wants them to do. And then Trent will be the whole thing, and we will lose our pull."

This was not giving the natives credit for a very high degree of intelligence, but the small fry do not care about that. In fact, they do not think about it, not having the very highest degree of intelligence themselves.

"A better way," said another of the small fry, "is to have our heads of departments draw blanket warrants, and pay the men themselves. Thus, Sam Johnson would pay his workers, and Harry Murray would pay the police, and somebody else would pay the firemen—and we would get the credit, and handle the sack, too."

But that did not appeal to the small fry. And so, as an alternative, Mr. Adams' red-tape system was adopted, with its multiplicity of warrants, and all the other evils attendant upon it. Because, the small fry do not care so much whether the man who works gets the money. They get the credit—or keep Trent from getting it, which is nearly the same thing. And Mr. Adams gets a chance to pose as the statesman who has blocked a shrewd Democrat game to capture the native vote. It is very good politics. But it is funny.

MRS. BROWN WILL BE BURIED TODAY

The funeral of Mrs. Cordella Hastings Brown, who died at 4:50 yesterday morning, will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon from her late residence at Waikiki. Mrs. Brown was a kamaaina of Hawaii, the mother of Jacob F. Brown, Arthur M. Brown and Mrs. J. A. Gilman. She was born in Boston, May 10, 1824, and in 1841 was married to Captain Jacob Brown, a shipmaster. She first came to Honolulu on a visit with her husband in 1851, and came here to reside permanently in 1863. Captain Brown, who died here about twenty years ago, was favorably known on the islands, and was one of the promoters of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, being a friend of Captain Foster.

Mrs. Brown has been an invalid for years. For several months past she has been ill, from what seemed a general breaking up on account of extreme age. Two of her children were with her when she died and Jacob F. Brown, who is on Molokai, will be present at the funeral today, the steamship company having given orders for the Kinai to stop for him at Kaunakakai on her way up from Hawaii.
